Stress in early childhood and how it may interfere with school performance

TEACHERS AND SNAs

This presentation will outline how stress and anxiety in the early years may impact on behaviour, peer interaction, academic performance and learning later on in school.

Examples will be given of how such children may be identified while in the classroom and in the school yard. Some support strategies will be offered which may be implemented by teachers, in order to reduce anxiety and improve behaviour in the classroom.

Date: Monday November 26th
Time: 7.30pm
Facilitator: Dr Mary O'Connor
